

Illinois Court Holds That Coverage for Malicious Prosecution Claim Is Triggered When the Prosecution Is Commenced, Not When It Is Terminated

Risk and Recovery Blog on September 23, 2014

An Illinois appellate court recently held in St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Co. v. City of Zion that coverage under a law enforcement liability policy for a malicious prosecution claim is triggered when the wrongful prosecution is commenced, not when it is terminated in favor of the accused. The court thereby joined the majority... Continue
