

SEC Continues to Use Advanced Data Analytics to Investigate Insider Trading

Corporate Defense and Disputes Blog on June 1, 2017

The SEC has continued to pursue a number of insider trading cases this year, both large-scale and small. Some of those matters involved trades that yielded relatively small amounts of profits: $40,000-$60,000. Why does the enforcement division spend resources on these smaller cases?... Continue Reading

Related Professionals

- Julia M. Ansanelli
Associate
- Joshua M. Newville
Partner